MPS European Style Chains

MPS European Style Chains

Production Industries, a subsidiary of Frost Inc., is a leading manufacturer of MPS European Style Chains, Components and Attachments for Overhead Enclosed Track Conveyors in the Red Meat Processing industry. Each chain is tailored to meet the requirements of your specific processing application. Our experienced Sales and Engineering team will help determine the best chain replacement solution for any stage of the slaughter process.

UNRIVALED QUALITY & SERVICE

Our high alloy steel chains and components are made to withstand the harshest environments of your operation. All of our products are machined and assembled in the USA which allows us to deliver what you want, when you want it. Along with quality, we focus on providing customers with exceptional customer service which has made us the preferred Engineered Class Chain provider for Red Meat Processing.

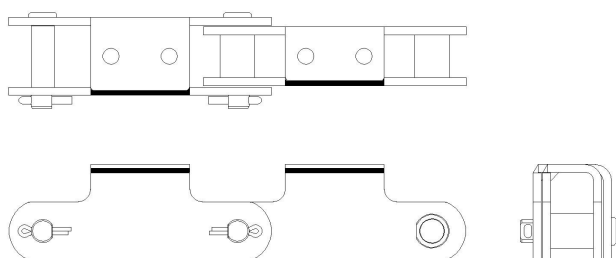

NOTABLE VALUE

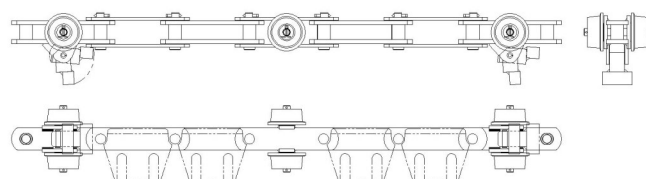

The value we bring to your operation through our products and service is superior to our competition. We provide first-rate products that last longer when compared to other MPS European Style Chain Manufacturers. Our operations are located in Michigan, so you do not have to wait for long lead times.
